RE: No Expiration Dating on Safetec Lip Balm

At Safetec of America, we are committed to providing products of the highest quality and safety standards. Our lip balm, crafted with meticulous care, does not contain any active ingredients. As a result, it falls outside the FDA's active ingredient monograph, exempting it from the requirement of an expiration date.

We want to assure our customers that despite the absence of an expiration date, our lip balm is designed to maintain its efficacy and safety for up to 3 years from the manufacturing date. However, we recommend that once opened, our products be used within 12 months to ensure optimal freshness and performance.

To preserve the quality of our products, we advise storing them away from extreme temperatures and direct sunlight whenever possible. These simple precautions can help extend the lifespan and effectiveness of our lip balm.

It is ultimately the responsibility of the customer to determine whether their inventory has been stored in accordance with the recommended conditions.

Mineral oil 50-100% and ours has 67% so we need to putna exp date on it b/c now it's OTC. Cosmetics don't require it.
