RE: Perfluorinated Substances (PFAS), Perfluorinated Compounds (PFCs) and Fluoropolymers

Safetec of America affirms that we do not intentionally use Perfluorinated Substances (PFAS), Perfluorinated Compounds (PFCs), and Fluoropolymers in any of the products we manufacture. Furthermore, we have confirmed through information and certifications provided by our suppliers that PFAS are not intentionally added to any raw materials or components supplied to us.

While we and our suppliers do not intentionally use PFAS, PFCs, and Fluoropolymers, it is important to acknowledge that trace levels of such substances may exist in the environment or as a result of raw material characteristics and manufacturing processes. Safetec does not test for PFAS that are not intentionally added.

Safetec remains committed to transparency and compliance with applicable regulations and will continue to collaborate with our suppliers to ensure the integrity of the materials used in our products.

Sincerely,

Ken Bianchi
